BACKGROUND

Graduated from Clarkson University in 1964 with a BS in Interdisciplinary Engineering and Management after three years active duty in the US Army Security Agency. Served as a manufacturing and facilities engineer and Supervisor of Technical Services with General Dynamics Corporation – Electronics Division, Rochester, NY and as Production and Inventory Control Manager with the R.E. Dietz Co., Syracuse, prior to forming Oshex Associates, Inc., a firm specializing in noise and vibration control, machine and plant safety, in 1975, and Environmental and Safety Associates (a/k/a ESA Consulting Services) in 1981.

FIELD OF EXPERIENCE

Specialist in the fields of machine and facility safety, and industrial, building and community (environmental) noise measurement and control. Conducted numerous training and certification courses for engineers, safety and law enforcement personnel with respect to machine and plant safety and industrial and architectural noise and vibration control, community noise measurement and abatement. Performed dozens of plantwide machine safety audits throughout North and Central America, and served as a consultant and testifying expert for engineering firms, government agencies, attorneys and insurance companies in over one hundred cases of accident litigation - most resulting from machine or facility-related injuries involving machine operations, maintenance, construction, facility or equipment design, or failure to train or warn. Activity in the field of machine safety includes serving as a consultant to OSHA and MSHA. Activity in the field of industrial, product and building noise control includes consultation and/or trial testimony in over fifty industrial or environmental noise cases, and technical contributions in the development, preparation or revision of standards and community noise ordinances.

PROFESSIONAL MEMBERSHIPS
